Financial Guidelines for Agricultural Producers AND Management Accounting Guidelines for Agricultural Producers

This CD provides comprehensive, practical guidelines for financial reporting and management accounting in agriculture. Compiled by agricultural producers, lenders, accountants, and educators, these documents provide the first broadly- accepted recommended practices for measurement of financial performance and development of management information systems for agricultural producers.

The Financial Guidelines for Agricultural Producers provides recommended standards for format and content of financial reports, recommended financial measures common to all sectors of agriculture, and example statements and measures. (Updated and copyrighted 2008)

The Management Accounting Guidelines for Agricultural Producers responds to the ever-increasing need for consistent, reliable, and accurate management information systems to support day-to-day production decisions.

The Farm Financial Standards Council is a volunteer body of individuals who have joined together to promote uniformity and integrity in financial reporting and analytical techniques in agriculture. A brief history of the organization is included on the CD.
